Dress Up and Play with Addy Jo

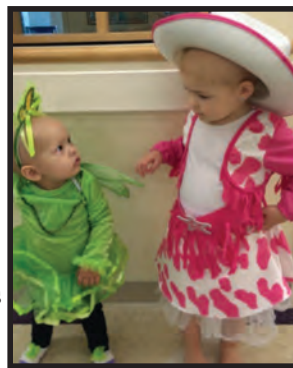

Addy enjoying Chelsea's Closet at Doernbecher Children's Hospital.

Chelsea's Closet, a simple name for such a wonderful program. I will never forget the first time we came to know this amazing organization and the beautiful people that run it. My daughter, Addy Jo, had been admitted to Doernbecher Children's hospital for three days. We did not have an official diagnosis due to waiting on test results. The doctors would not tell us much, other than her blood tests were showing some type of leukemia. Leukemia? Like Cancer? You mean my daughter, my 2 year old little girl, could die before her next birthday? While existing in this fog of not knowing what the next day would bring, in rolls this bright red "Closet". A volunteer came to Addy's door and explained that Chelsea's Closet had arrived, and Addy could pick out and keep any costume she wanted and was able to participate in a parade to show off her beautiful new costume. Addy asked to be a princess. In addition to her costume, Addy picked matching shoes, tiara and a wand so she could be as magical as possible. In no time at all, my daughter who had no interest in anything but going home, now was excited to put on a costume and dance around her room (as much as being hooked up to her IV pole would allow). The other magical part? Not only did Addy get to pick out a costume, the folks at Chelsea's Closet let siblings and friends pick out costumes as well. My son Jerry was there and was able to dress as the ninja.

From this point on, Chelsea's Closet became something to look forward to during our lengthy stay in the hospital. Due to Addy's diagnosis of Acute Myeloid Leukemia (AML), we had to stay in-patient, or basically live in the hospital, for four to six weeks for every round of chemo. Additionally, we were only home three to five days in between each of her four rounds. In all, we were residents of the hospital for six months. Chelsea's Closet was the bright spot during this monotonous routine of blood draws, chemo and all the side effects that occur. Sometimes leaving the room was a lot for Addy, as it is for many patients. Chemo takes a big toll on their little bodies, and just getting out of bed to go to the restroom can be more than they can handle. Having Chelsea's Closet as a light in the dark could make the difference between a good or a bad day. Addy was blessed to be a multiple recipient of Chelsea's Closet costumes and sometimes started her own parades when they weren't there. As she made friends with other children at the hospital, she wasn't the only child wandering around in costumes all day long.

Her new Best Friend Sophia loved to dress up with her as well. Another amazing thing that CHF did was made sure no child was left out. When Addy was in isolation (not allowed to leave her room due to infection), the Chelsea's Closet volunteers brought a costume to her.

Not only did this organization bless Addy in the hospital, they continued to bless her after treatment. We were invited to their Annual Masquerade Ball. The kids LOVED being able to dress up, eat amazing food and dance their hearts out, all thanks to the Chelsea Hicks Foundation.

Then we were surprised again. Chelsea Hicks Foundation partnered with Make-A-Wish and provided costumes for Addy and her brother. Addy's wish was to "swim with dolphins and fishies and sharks, and to be a Mermaid." Make-A-Wish flew our family to Hawaii for a week full of fun, dolphins and fish, and CHF did not let Addy down on the shark and mermaid part. They provided incredible costumes for the kids to take on our trip and add to the fun.

CHF is an amazing foundation that provides one of the most awesome experiences for kids. My daughter's hospital experience was bearable and my kids were able to be kids and experience genuine FUN, thanks to CHF. My heart will be forever grateful for the happy memories my children were able to experience during hard times as well as during celebration. Why donate to CHF? In time of sorrow, ailing bodies and frustration, CHF was there to brighten the day. In times of jubilation and happiness, CHF was there to join in the celebration! They bring a joy to life that can only be brought when a child expresses their imagination in the simplest way, pretending to be whomever their hearts desire. Why not donate and be a part of changing a child's life. We are eternally grateful to CHF.

Love,
The Clifton's

Volunteer Spotlight

Three year old Christopher Johnson loved to dress up in silly rainbow wigs and fun costumes. In 2013, Chelsea's Closet volunteers met sweet Christopher in the hospital during his cancer treatments. While battling those dragons, his parents Robyn and Stephen Johnson, gave back to CHF by collecting and delivering costumes to the CHF warehouse. They enjoyed paying it forward and we loved seeing Christopher outside the hospital.

Unfortunately in late 2014, Christopher lost his battle with cancer. His parents, chose to give back AGAIN to CHF knowing firsthand the benefit of dress up and play and the silliness it brought to their family.

Their costume drive in 2014 brought in over 250 costumes. In 2015, they grew it even more. By sharing their story, Robyn organized deep discounts from local stores and persuaded numerous stores to donate gift cards for costume purchases. All in all, they donated over 700 costumes for our Chelsea's Closet program! Robyn spent countless hours helping at CHF getting them ready for our Chelsea's Closet hospital visits. We are so thankful for the Johnson's giving hearts, volunteerism and for sharing how the costumes we delivered to Christopher made a greater impact beyond the hospital visit.

Tigard High School - National Honor Society

Special thanks to 2016 THS seniors Abigail Olsen and Jacob Chesler for holding a costume and craft drive at Tigard High School as their charitable project through National Honor Society. They collected more than 100 costumes, accessories and craft projects for our Chelsea's Closet program. Abigail and Jacob also brought other NHS members to the CHF warehouse in April to volunteer time processing their donations.

Thank you NHS students for your caring hearts and giving back to children that are in the battle of their lives. Best of luck in your future college endeavors and enjoy THS graduation in June.

WinCo Foods Portland Open benefits CHF

The 2nd year of the WinCo Foods Portland Open was a huge success for Oregon and SW Washington nonprofits and brings the top 156 Web.com Tour players to the Witch Hollow course at Pumpkin Ridge each August. The final regular season event of the Web.com Tour is action packed with the final 25 PGA TOUR cards handed out on Sunday! Mark your calendars for this year's event on August 25-28, 2016 and enjoy the festivities such as Kids day and the Nike Jr Golf Clinic on Thursday which are FREE to kids 17 and under.

Due to generous sponsors, like Kraft Heinz, WinCo Foods has committed to give 100% of all ticket sales from this event to deserving charities and youth organizations in Oregon and Southwest Washington. Through our ticket sales and bonuses, the Chelsea Hicks Foundation was awarded more than $15,000 this past year generating much needed financial support. If you would like to join the fun and support CHF, please purchase your 4 day ticket for only $25 at <http://www.wincofoodsportlandopen.com/order/tickets-info/CHF/>.

Betsiefest 2016 - Bluegrass Music Festival

Betsiefest Northwest has partnered again with the Chelsea Hicks Foundation as its charity of choice. Last year's event raised more than $3,500 for CHF and the music went late into the night. Betsiefest was started in 2010 as a celebration of life to honor their friend Betsie Och who lost her battle with cancer at the age of 39. Betsie was a mindful lady who enjoyed music with friends, especially children. This annual bluegrass festival is held each year on a beautiful farm on Sauvies Island. This is a donation based event that embraces a loving, open, and giving spirit. The event has music all day featuring multiple bands, along with car and tent camping in the evening amongst a VW van village in the field. There is a potluck dinner, an enthusiastic kids parade, along with plenty of activities for both kids and adults.

Betsiefest 2016 appreciates donations of any amount, but suggests a minimum donation of $25 per adult. Your donations boost the spirits of all the little rock stars battling cancer in the true spirit of dress up and play! Come on out to this family friendly event, don your tiara, tutu, cape or best rock star outfit and enjoy listening to bands - Cluck n Claw, Bearcoon, Bahttsi with more bands to come. Donate online at <https://chelseahicks.ejoinme.org/Betsiefest2016>.

Join us at Betsiefest on Saturday
June 25th starting at 1pm

14700 NW Gillihan Road

Masquerade Ball Update

6th Annual Masquerade Ball, October 17, 2015

The 6th annual Masquerade Ball with a Roaring 20's theme, was emceed by KPAM AM860 First Edition Hosts, Tim Hohl and Terry Travis. The event was a HUGE success with over 200 guests dressed as flappers, gangster and other costumes which helped to raise more than $94,000.

Guests enjoyed dinner by Jake's Catering, music by DJ ONE, photography by The Original Photo Booth and a live performance painting by Jennifer Harlow from Blue Plume Studios. Thank you to all of our volunteers who helped make this evening possible. Join us for the 7th annual Masquerade Ball on October 8th to celebrate the heroes of 2016! For sponsorship and donation information, contact Sabrina Prill at sabrina@chelseahicksfoundation.org.

California Pizza Kitchen

Thank you to our great partners - California Pizza Kitchen - Bridgeport. Our 2nd annual Iron Chef Pizza Cook-Off was a hit with our Hero for Hero teams competing from Lake Oswego Fire Department, Clackamas County Sheriff's Office and Tualatin Valley Fire and Rescue. For the 2nd year in a row Lake Oswego Fire Department won the honors of the best pizza concoction with the surprise ingredient of potato. The event brought in more than $1,000 with donations from CPK and auctioning off the pizzas that the Police and Fire Heros made. Look for this year event coming again in September.

In March, California Pizza Kitchen - Bridgeport supported CHF again with the proceeds from the Bunny Breakfast along with special guest Mother Goose. The restaurant was filled with families and kids dressed in their best bunny clothes eating wonderfully yummy breakfast pizzas filled with canadian bacon and sausage, apple pie filling and 4 more delicious options. The kids spent their time playing games, taking pictures with the Easter Bunny and Mother Goose and playing trivia games while winning fun prizes. The event proceeds brought in more than $1,000 going to the Chelsea Hicks Foundation in support of our Chelsea's Closet program.

Thank you California Pizza Kitchen - Bridgeport for your ongoing support of the Chelsea Hicks Foundation. We LOVE partnering with you to help children Dance like Princesses and Fly like Superheroes.

Businesses become Heroes!

Local businesses help bring Chelsea's Closet to our heroes at the hospitals by becoming Regal Partners! Businesses sign-up to support program expenses for a month or several months (for as little as $500) and receive numerous Regal Rewards such as:

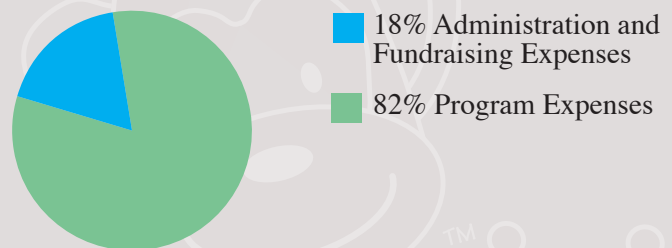

- Exclusive logo signage on the Chelsea's Closet trailer while in transport several times a month
- Logo signage at the hospitals for all patients, staff and families to see
- Priority access to team-building volunteer activities at the warehouse
- Recognition on CHF's website and social media communications
- Tickets to special events

Too many benefits to list them all! If you know a business who is interested in helping bring Chelsea's Closet to our heroes at the hospitals, contact Alison Hicks, Executive Director at 503-367-5747 or alison@chelseahicksfoundation.org for more information.
